INFORMATION ABOUT OUR PRESENTERS

KEYNOTE ADDRESS

Ray Blanchard, Ph.D.

Changes to the Diagnostic Criteria for the Paraphilias Proposed for DSM-5

The Paraphilias Subworkgroup is proposing two broad changes that affect all or several of the paraphilia diagnoses, in addition to various amendments to specific diagnoses. We are proposing that the DSM-5 make a distinction between paraphilias and paraphilic disorders. A paraphilic disorder is a paraphilia that causes distress or impairment to the individual or harm to others. One would ascertain a paraphilia (according to the nature of the urges, fantasies, or behaviors) but diagnose a paraphilic disorder (on the basis of distress and impairment). In this conception, having a paraphilia would be a necessary but not a sufficient condition for having a paraphilic disorder. The second broad change applies to paraphilias that involve nonconsenting persons (e.g., Voyeuristic Disorder, Exhibitionistic Disorder, and Sexual Sadism Disorder). We propose that the B criteria suggest a minimum number of separate victims for diagnosing the paraphilia. The criteria have been modified to lessen the dependence of diagnosis on patients' self-reports regarding urges and fantasies. In addition to the cross-cutting changes described above and the various specific changes to individual diagnoses, the Paraphilias Subworkgroup has also proposed consideration of two new diagnoses: Paraphilic Coercive Disorder and Hypersexual Disorder.

Ray Blanchard was Head of Clinical Sexology Services in the Law and Mental Health Program at the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH) in Toronto, Ontario from 1995 to 2010. He is currently an adjunct Professor of Psychiatry at the University of Toronto. He received his A.B. in psychology from the University of Pennsylvania in 1967 and his Ph.D. from the University of Illinois in 1973. In 1976 he accepted a position as a clinical psychologist at the Ontario Correctional Institute in Brampton, Ontario. While there, he made the acquaintance of the prominent sex researcher Kurt Freund, M.D., D.Sc., who introduced him to research on paraphilias, gender identity disorders, and sexual orientation. Dr. Blanchard joined the Gender Identity Clinic at the Clarke Institute of Psychiatry (now part of the CAMH) in 1980. Much of his research in the subsequent 15 years concerned transsexualism and milder forms of gender identity disorders. In 1995, he was appointed Head of the newly created Clinical Sexology Services at the CAMH. This unit comprised the Gender Identity Clinic and the Kurt Freund Laboratory. This laboratory is the oldest in North America for the psychophysiological assessment of erotic interests in sexual offenders and other men with problematic sexual behavior. In 2004, he served as President of the International Academy of Sex Research. He is currently a member of the Sexual and Gender Identity Disorders Work Group for the fifth edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders. He was an Associate Editor of Sexual Abuse: A Journal of Research and Treatment from 2003–2010, and he has been a member of the Editorial Board of the Archives of Sexual Behavior since 1990. In 2010, he received a Significant Achievement Award from the Association for the Treatment of Sexual Abusers.

Pamela M. Yates, Ph.D., R.D. Psych

The Good Lives Model of Sexual Offending

In recent years, the Good Lives Model of sexual offending has been adopted as a complementary addition to cognitive-behavioral treatment of sexual offenders. This model provides a broader conceptualization of, and approach to, the offence process and to understanding the motivations associated with sexual offending behavior. The model has been developed and applied as an overarching rehabilitation framework to augment sexual offender treatment, with a dual focus on achieving a positive lifestyle in tandem with risk management. This workshop is designed to provide assessors, clinicians, and other individuals involved in the assessment, treatment, and supervision of sexual offenders with an overview and introduction to this approach as well as its practical application to the treatment of sexual offenders.

Dr. Yates has worked as a clinician and researcher in various capacities since 1987, including as a psychologist, clinical director of a high risk sexual offender treatment unit, and national manager of sexual offender programs for the Correctional Service Canada. She has worked with adults and youth, including sexual offenders, violent offenders, individuals with substance abuse problems, and with victims of violence, and has developed treatment programs for various offender groups. Her research interests include assessment and treatment of sexual offenders, the self-regulation model of offending, risk assessment, program evaluation, and treatment effectiveness. She has written and co-authored numerous reports and presentations in the areas of offender rehabilitation, sexual offending, sex offender assessment and treatment, psychopathy, sexual sadism, phallometric assessment, treatment effectiveness, and program accreditation and evaluation.

Use of Polygraphy in the Treatment and Monitoring of Juveniles and Adults Who Have Engaged in Illegal Sexual Behavior

Panelists will discuss current competing theories on the administration and interpretation of the therapeutic polygraph. Some of the questions to be discussed include: Should polygraphs be completed on Juveniles?, What are current strategies used to overcome the polygraph?, Is there an effective way to do a multiple issues test?, and How accurate is a sexual history examination?

Erik J. Abel

David Prescott, LICSW

Denial & Engaging Resistance

This workshop will include a review of the principles of motivational interviewing and the sexual offender treatment outcome literature, including studies of denial. Participants will learn and discuss key skills to enhance treatment motivation.

Mr. Prescott has worked in and around inpatient settings since 1984, and specifically with individuals who have sexually abused since 1987. He has a strong interest in sharing resources, networking, and training to increase knowledge in these fields. Specifically, his clinical and training interests focus on motivational enhancement, developing and maintaining therapeutic relationships, and assessing treatment progress. He currently serves as Clinical Director for the Becket Family of Services, which provides treatment for troubled youth in Maine and New Hampshire. Prior to his move to New England, he served as the Clinical Director at the Minnesota Sex Offender Program in Moose Lake, Minnesota and Treatment Assessment Director at the Sand Ridge Secure Treatment Center in Mauston, Wisconsin. In this position, he oversaw the progress of patients and groups of patients and coordinates an early stage of the conventional treatment track. Mr. Prescott has published articles on risk assessment, interviewing, and providing residential treatment to youth, and is the author, editor, and co-editor of recent books on people who have sexually abused. He has presented on these topics around North America and in Europe. He is the Immediate Past President of the Association for the Treatment of Sexual Abusers (ATSA), and former editor of that organization's newsletter, The Forum. He is a charter member of the International Association for the Treatment of Sex Offenders and has also served on the board of directors for Stop It Now!, an organization dedicated to the prevention of sexual abuse. Mr. Prescott is also a member of the Motivational Interviewing Network of Trainers (MINT), an international organization devoted to a client-centered, directive method for enhancing intrinsic motivation to change by exploring and resolving ambivalence. He is on the International Advisory Board for the Journal of Sexual Aggression and a Section Editor for the formative journal Motivational Interviewing: Training, Research, Implementation, Practice.
