Keynote Speaker

David Prescott, LICSW, President Elect
Association for the Treatment of Sexual Abusers

Mr. Prescott has worked in and around inpatient settings, since 1984 and specifically with individuals who have sexually abused since 1987. He has a strong interest in training to increase knowledge in these fields. He currently serves as the Treatment Assessment Director at the Sand Ridge Secure Treatment Center in Mauston, Wisconsin. In this position, he oversees the progress of patients and groups of patients and coordinates an early stage of the conventional treatment track.

Mr. Prescott has published articles on risk assessment, interviewing, and providing residential treatment to youth, and is the editor of recent books on youth who have sexually abused. He has presented on these topics around North America and in Europe.

George Simon, Ph.D. has specialized in disorders of personality and character for over 20 years. He has appeared on several national radio and TV programs, including Fox News Network and CNN, and given over 250 workshops and seminars nationwide and internationally, and consulted to business, agencies and organizations seeking his expertise on character disturbance. His book, In Sheep's Clothing: Understanding and Dealing with Manipulative People, considered by many to be the definitive work on the subject, is now in its 20th printing both at home and abroad, and has enjoyed a 5-Star rating since it debuted with both Amazon.Com and Barnes & Noble.Com in 1996.

(W-3 and Panel 2) Karen Boyd Worley, Ph.D. is an Associate Professor of Pediatrics Center for Children at Risk, Arkansas Children's Hospital. She serves as the director of the Family Treatment Program and Adolescent Sexual Adjustment Project.

(T-5) Michael Powell, MS, LPC is completing his Ph.D. in Counselor Education at the University of Arkansas, with an emphasis in research methods, supervision, and assessments.

(T-4) Amy Adams, Ph.D., LPC, LMFT is an Assistant Professor of Counselor Education at John Brown University. Her clinical areas of focus include sexuality and marriage and family therapy. Dr. Adams also works in private practice at the Center for Psychology and Counseling in Fayetteville.

(W-4) Sam Wallace, MS, LPC is the Clinical Director for Piney Ridge Center in Fayetteville. He has presented on the topic of sexual abuse at international, national, state, and local conferences. He is also a doctoral student and Benjamin Franklin Lever Fellow at University of Arkansas Counselor Education Program.

(W-2) Al Barton, MS, LPC is the Director of Needs Assessment and Outpatient Services for Piney Ridge Center in Fayetteville. He currently serves as the President of the Arkansas Chapter of the Association for the Treatment of Sexual Abusers.

(W-1) Samuel Daily, MS is a Senior Clinician at Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) at the University of Arkansas. He has worked as a Residential Specialist/Counselor-in-Training in a residential substance abuse rehabilitation facility.

(W-3 and Panel 2) Janice K. Church, Ph.D. is currently Associate Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences (UAMS) and Psychologist with the Programs for Children at Risk at Arkansas Children's Hospital.

(W-1) Josette Cline, Ph.D. is the Assistant Director at CAPS. Dr. Cline joined CAPS in Fall 2000 after completing her training in Counseling Psychology at Indiana University and her clinical internship with both the Veterans' Administration Medical Center in Northern California and the University of California.

(T-2) Karen Farst, M.D., Department of Pediatrics, UAMS College of Medicine; Team for Children at Risk Arkansas Children's Hospital. She is board certified in internal medicine and pediatrics.
