1:15 p.m.-3:15 p.m.; 3:30 p.m.-5:00 p.m.

David Thornton, Ph.D.

Treatment Director, Wisconsin SVP

(7.5 Sex Offender Hours)

David Thornton holds a Ph.D. in Psychology from the University of Exeter in England, and is currently treatment director for Wisconsin's SVP treatment program. He previously led the team that developed the national sexual offender treatment program for Her Majesty's Prison Service. Involved in the creation of widely used risk assessment instruments for the evaluation of sexual offenders such as STATIC-99 and Risk Matrix 2000, Dr. Thornton developed the Structured Risk Assessment framework that allows the joint assessment of static risk and treatment need. His current research interests include the effect of age on sexual recidivism, methods for integrating results from multiple actuarial instruments, and cognitive measures of sexual interest.
