ABOUT THE PRESENTERS

Dr. Robin J. Wilson, ABPP is a researcher, educator, and board certified clinical psychologist who has worked with persons with sexual and social behavior problems in hospital, correctional, and private practice settings for more than 25 years. He has worked in Corrections (in Canada), Sexual Offender Civil Commitment (in Florida), and has provided consultation on assessment, treatment, and risk management to state, provincial, national, and international stakeholder groups. Dr. Wilson is an Associate Clinical Professor (Adjunct) of Psychiatry and Behavioural Neuroscience at McMaster University and a Professor of Forensic Practice at the Humber College Institute of Technology & Advanced Learning. He also provides supervisory services to hospital-based programs working with persons with intellectual disabilities who have sexual behavior issues.

Dr. Wilson is a frequent consultant to the legal and judicial system, having served as an expert witness in many court proceedings and as a member of law enforcement panels regarding community risk management. Dr. Wilson's current research and advocacy interests are focused on collaborative models of risk management and restoration as persons of risk are transitioned from institutional to community settings. In particular, he is a long-time participant in the novel Circles of Support & Accountability model of wrap-around care and intentional community for persons who sexually offend who are at particularly high risk to reoffend.

Dr. Wilson has published over 75 scientific articles, book chapters, and other monographs and has presented internationally on the diagnosis and treatment of social and sexual psychopathology. Dr. Wilson is the President of the Florida Association for the Treatment of Sexual Abusers, is the elected Southern Regional Representative on the Board of the Association for the Treatment of Sexual Abusers (ATSA), and is a past recipient of the of the ATSA Graduate Research Award.

David S. Prescott, LICSW has worked in and around inpatient settings since 1984, and specifically with individuals who have sexually abused since 1987. He has a strong interest in sharing resources, networking, and training to increase knowledge in these fields. Mr. Prescott currently serves as Clinical Director for the Becket Family of Services, which provide treatment for troubled youth in northern New England. Prior to his return to New England, he served as the Clinical Director at the Minnesota Sex Offender Program in Moose Lake, Minnesota and Treatment Assessment Director at the Sand Ridge Secure Treatment Center in Mauston, Wisconsin. In this position, he oversaw the progress of patients and groups of patients and coordinates an early stage of the conventional treatment track. From 1992-2004, Mr. Prescott worked as a Clinical Supervisor at Bennington School, Inc., and has been a consultant to that program ever since.

Mr. Prescott has published seven books on the assessment and treatment of people who have sexually abused, with an eighth currently in press. He has written a number articles and book chapters in these areas as well. Mr. Prescott is on the International Advisory Board for the Journal of Sexual Aggression and a Section Editor for the formative journal Motivational Interviewing: Training, Research, Implementation, Practice. He currently writes articles for the NEARI Press Newsletter, which has a monthly circulation of over 4,000.

In addition to his clinical, scholarly, and consultative work, Mr. Prescott is the current Past President of the Association for the Treatment of Sexual Abusers (ATSA) and served as editor of that organization's newsletter, The Forum, from 2002-2007. Mr. Prescott is a charter member of the International Association for the Treatment of Sex Offenders and has also served on the board of directors for Stop It Now!, an organization dedicated to the prevention of sexual abuse.

Dr. Jason E. Newsome, LPC, CSOTS is the Director of Sex Offender Treatment Programs at Family Counseling Connection in Charleston, WV. He is a Licensed Professional Counselor and Certified Sex Offender Treatment Specialist from both Ohio University and the National Association of Forensic Counselors. Dr. Newsome received his bachelor's degree from WV University Institute of Technology in 2004, his master's degree from Marshall University in 2006, and doctorate from Capella University in 2009.

In addition to his clinical work, Dr. Newsome serves on the Board of Directors for the WV Counseling Association, currently as past president and as an adjunct professor for Marshall University. Dr. Newsome has worked with the WV Supreme Court of Appeals Sex Offender Intensive Supervision Officer program since its inception in 2008. As Director of Sex Offender Treatment Programs at Family Counseling Connection, Dr. Newsome supervises five sex offender treatment programs in southern WV. In addition to supervising treatment programs, Dr. Newsome also serves as a sex offender evaluator and as an expert witness on offender-related issues in various circuits.
